

DXC ESSAY WRITING

DXC Essay writing Round is also known as DXC Written Communication Test. This round is important because it will expand your knowledge in a variety of areas.

Essay writing improves knowledge and aids the learning process by forcing you to clarify and sort out ideas and facts, analyse source material, and apply critical judgment, among other things.

WHAT QUALITIES ARE DXC EVALUATORS LOOKING FOR IN ESSAY WRITING?

DXC evaluators typically look for essays that demonstrate strong analytical thinking, effective communication, clarity of thought, well-structured arguments, and a deep understanding of the topic. They also appreciate originality, critical thinking, and a balanced perspective on the subject matter.

POINTS TO BE CHECKED WHILE PREPARING FOR ESSAY WRITING

1. Start reading good articles
2. Start practicing and writing essay on different topics
3. Start your practice with easy topics and then gradually increase the difficulty level of the Topics
4. Always start your essay with the section Introduction in which explain about the Topic first and then only start expressing your views over Topics.
5. Always give examples from daily life to make your essay more connecting and more readable.
6. Explain both negative as well as positive side of topic.
7. Try to give more and more idea and solutions that how we can do better things
8. Don't go away from the topic while explaining it.
9. Make sure that your example revolves around the Topic
10. In last summarize you essay in a single paragraph.

PROBLEM AREA:

1. Low typing speed.
2. Spelling mistakes.
3. Word limit.
4. Punctuations.
5. Using backspace button
6. Lack of ideas.
7. Grammar mistakes.
8. Relevance of the content.

PREPARATION:

1. If you are having low typing speed then practice more and more.
2. Make a list of spelling mistakes that you often make and revise on daily basis.
3. Do not try to exhaust your word limit. Bigger the essay bigger chances of making mistakes.
4. Start with capital letter. Use capital letters for Proper noun.
5. Give space after putting comma or full stop.
6. Do not try to use direct speech, use indirect instead.
7. If in case you are using any quote then try to articulate it in passive voice.
8. Practice only in Notepad software.
9. You do not have to use backspace because it will increase your word counter. Use delete button while practicing the essay it will lead you to not use backspace in examination.
10. Right now, you are hardly writing an essay, that is why you are lacking in ideas. So must write an essay on daily basis it will improve your ideas making process.

11. Most test engines will check the basic errors of spellings and punctuations. Do not make long sentences, test engine might mark it faulty and you will end up in making too much mistakes.
12. Do not use more than a single tense in a sentence. Try to write in a simple sentence.
13. Do not overlap your thoughts. Do not repeat the same fact or points again. Use questioning techniques to generate more points.

IMPORTANT POINTS:

UNDERSTANDING THE TOPIC

First thing here is how better we understand the topic and how we are going to present it to the reader? The better you will understand the topic the better you can express your views over the Topic.

PRESENTATION AND ARRANGEMENT

It is important how you are going to arrange your essay and how you are going to represent your essay.

Try to divide your essay in 3-4 sub-parts and each part will explain a different thing. Do not overlap your idea.

EXAMPLES , PRO'S AND CONS

Try to explain the topic by giving relevant examples so that reader can connect themselves with your essay and it will give a positive response.

KEYWORDS

Last but not least use of Keywords in your essay also plays a major role. Knowing about the Keywords becomes much more easier if you are aware of the Topic.

Do's

- First analyse the topic and understand the best way you to write about it.
- Try to put all the problems and explanation too in your essay
- Try to express your opinions in the essay
- Write the essay in a very systematic way.
- Use specific keywords.
- Explain both Pro's as well as Cons.

Don't

- Don't start writing essay without analysing it.
- Don't start your essay with the problems. Try to start essay with explaining the Topic itself.
- Don't write your same points again and again
- Don't overlap things.
- Don't highlight cons very much.
- Don't go away from the Topic.

Points to be Remembered

- First analyse the topic and understand the topic.
- Always put your point in a very systematic manner.
- Don't overlap your opinions.
- Try to put your essay in a well manner and in a positive way it will put a good impact on your reader.
- Put both Pros and Cons in your essay.
- Don't put the cons in negative way. Always explain cons by giving ideas that how can we overcome with this problem.
- At the end remember few things
- Use Key Words
- Give Examples
- Give Idea
- Express your opinion

Points to be Checked

- First thing you need to check is that whether you put a meaningful essay or not?
- Check whether you have mentioned both Pros and Cons or not?
- Check whether you explained the Topic or not?
- Check whether you expressed your opinions or not?
- Make sure that your essay revolves around the Topic or not?
- At last you need to check the grammar and spellings.
- Revise and proofread your essay for clarity, grammar, and spelling errors.

MOST IMPORTANT POINT

DXC may provide specific formatting guidelines, such as font type, font size, line spacing, and margin requirements. If no guidelines are provided, it's advisable to use a standard font like Times New Roman or Arial, with 12-point font size and 1.5 or double line spacing.

ALL THE BEST!!!

XPLORE360 TRAINING SOLUTIONS